

Children's Program Record

Name: Little Red Riding Hood

Totally Red takes the classic tale of "Little Red Riding Hood" and presents it in different styles of writing. Continue this with your classes by examining the different styles of "Little Red Riding Hood". Start with reading the classic tale like the one in the "Fairy Tales" book listed below. Lon Po Po is a tale from China. Discuss the similarities in the book and the differences.

Books:

*Fairy Tales

(Little Red Riding Hood pg. 141)

You Red to Me, I'll Read to You

(Little Red Riding Hood pg. 16)

Lon Po Po: A Red-Riding Story From China

Honestly, Red Riding Hood Was Rotten!

Mirror, Mirror (A Book of Reversible Verse)

(Little Red Riding Hood pg 9)

Told by: Berlie Doherty

by Mary Ann Hoberman

by: Ed Young

by: Trisha Speed Shaskan

by: Marilyn Singer

A fun song to share with the kids is Little Red Riding Hood by Sam the Sham & the Pharaohs which can be found on YouTube

Activities:

- Have the students write what they would do if they came across a wolf in the woods.
- Make a Venn Diagram to compare the similarities and differences in two or three of the books.
- Have the students write about their favorite story that was shared.
- Scholastic has resources online to go with Lon Po Po which can be found at <http://www.scholastic.com/teachers/lesson-plan/lon-po-po-teaching-plan>
- Have the students create a map showing Little Red's trip to Grandmother's house

*This version includes putting stones in the wolf's belly after cutting him open so the Grandmother and Little Red could get out.